INTERDISCIPLINARY PEER REVIEW

IAC members are expected to review Canada Research Chairs Program nominations in the areas of health, natural sciences, engineering, social sciences and the humanities. Committee members must therefore have a broad proficiency and the ability to review nominations that are outside of their specific area of expertise in order to fully participate in the meeting deliberations.

In the box below, please explain in 500 words or fewer, the nominee’s suitability as a member of an interdisciplinary peer-review panel (e.g., Is the individual conducting interdisciplinary or multi-disciplinary research or research in an emerging field? Does the individual have previous experience doing interdisciplinary peer review?).

In 1,000 words or fewer, please describe how the nominee meets the high standards of the committee membership requirements:
